2020 - 2021 Policies for Distance Appointments

Please take the time to thoroughly read the following policies, as they have been adjusted to accommodate the larger demand for distance tutoring appointments. If a policy is not listed below, our standing policy still applies. A full list of Writing Center policies can be found at http://www.writingcenter.emory.edu/about_us/policies.html.

- Appointment Cancellations
 - Writers are required to cancel their appointments at least 3 hours in advance.
 - Writers must use WOnline to cancel their appointments.
 - Writers may not cancel appointments by emailing or calling tutors, the writing center, or writing center leadership.
 - WOnline will not allow writers to cancel an appointment less than 3 hours before its scheduled start time.
 - If a writer does not show for an appointment and fails to cancel that appointment 3 or more hours before the start time, that writer will be considered a "no-show."
- No-shows
 - Writers are responsible for canceling their appointments via WOnline.
 - If a writer fails to show up for a scheduled appointment and has not canceled the appointment on WOnline, the writer will be counted as a "no-show."
 - Writers who arrive more than 15 minutes late for an appointment will also be counted as no-shows.
 - Writers with 2 no-shows will automatically be blocked from making appointments for the rest of the semester.
- Bring a Digital Copy of Your Writing with You
 - Instead of a hard copy of their writing, writers will be required to share a digital copy of their draft during their Zoom meeting. When possible, writers should also share a copy of their assignment prompt.
- Recording Distance Tutoring Sessions Is Prohibited
 - No one may record Emory Writing Center tutoring sessions without the knowledge and expressed written consent of the Emory Writing Center director, the Writing Center staff conducting the session, and the writer.
